What were the Fund costs for the past six months?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Class C	$107.00	2.19%

How did the Fund perform for the past six months and what affected its performance?

The Fund's Class C shares underperformed the MSCI All Country World ex USA Net Total Return USD Index (the "Index") during the 6-month period ended March 31, 2025.

During the period, market swings due to U.S. elections, a change of presidential administration, and new tariff tensions ultimately resulted in a downturn at period end. The U.S. presidential election in early November 2024 sent markets up as investors rallied behind a business-friendly administration. As the Trump administration took office, a hardline approach to global trade driven by tariff implementation dampened markets, pushing global equity prices down at period end. Stock selection detracted from Fund performance relative to the Index over the period, most notably in industrials and information technology. Despite dampening absolute Fund performance, stock selection in utilities and materials contributed to relative performance.

From a geographic perspective, underweight allocations to, and stock selection in, Australia and India contributed to the Fund's relative performance versus the Index. Underweight positioning and stock selection in China and Canada were the largest detractors to relative performance. Currency effects on the Fund's absolute performance were positive during the period.

How did the Fund perform over the past 10 years?

The line graph below reflects a hypothetical $10,000 investment. The returns shown in the line graph and table assume the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, but do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on distributions or the redemption of Fund shares.
